We gratefully acknowledge the unflagging support and inspired vision of our board of directors.

“In our struggles to become successful in our careers and to distinguish ourselves from what is perceived as average, I think the measure that differentiates a good person from an indifferent one is how we affect the lives of others who by no choice of their own are overburdened and underserved.”

— The Honorable Robert E. Travaglini, speaking at the 2011 Walk for Hunger Kickoff Breakfast

2011 Board of Directors

“The Walk for Hunger to me illuminates the notion that we live together in community, that we are bound together in relationship, and that relationship and working together is the most stable and powerful resource we have and it’s available to all of us.”

— Ellen Parker, executive director for Project Bread – The Walk for Hunger, speaking at the 2011 Kickoff Breakfast

"As a new board member, I am thrilled to be part of Project Bread, helping to eradicate hunger in Massachusetts! Each and every day, Ellen and her team work tirelessly to help make this state a better place for families that struggle to put food on the table. The organization has become something much bigger than The Walk for Hunger and what it means to help provide food pantry and soup kitchen assistance to those in need. They have become a cutting-edge leader on food policy, aimed at delivering nutritious meals to at-risk children and families, while setting the standard for communities across the nation to follow. Project Bread's innovative work presents an exciting opportunity to make real, systemic changes in how we attack hunger in our society."
